Proposal for Rules Change May Be Shelved

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON (AP)—A caucus of House Democrats next Monday is expected to shelve or ignore demands of liberal members for a change in House rules in the new Congress.

All the signs pointed today to a harmonious meeting at which the subject of breaking the Rules Committee's hold on legislation may not even come up.

"I look for a harmonious caucus and a harmonious opening day session next Tuesday," said Rep. Clarence Cannon, D-Mo., who helped draft the caucus notices sent to all 22 House Democrats.

The notices said the caucus would consider selection of a Democratic candidate for speaker, candidates for elective officers, and candidates for vacancies on the Ways and Means Committee. Significantly, perhaps they omitted reference to consideration of "any other business"—standard language on previous notices.

It was reported reliably that the wording of the notices was approved by Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas and Majority Leader John W. McCormack of Massachusetts, who are slated to retain those posts in the new House.

Cannon said that if anyone wanted to bring up the matter of changing the rules it would be in order after all other business was disposed of. But he said he doubted that it would happen.

Both Rayburn and McCormack are at their homes. If a battle over the rules was in prospect, associates pointed out, the two leaders would be on hand in Washington to lay the groundwork for it.

Rayburn's associates represent him as being anxious to avoid a fight at the outset of the new session, especially a fight that might be lost.

Should the Rules Committee roadblocks in the path of legislation later, they claimed, the chances of breaking the committee's stranglehold would be better after John F. Kennedy has taken hold as president.

Sees Decline in Rail Revenue

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Missouri Pacific Railroad President Russell L. Dearnont predicts a decline in car loading and operating revenue next year but he's still optimistic about the railroad's future.

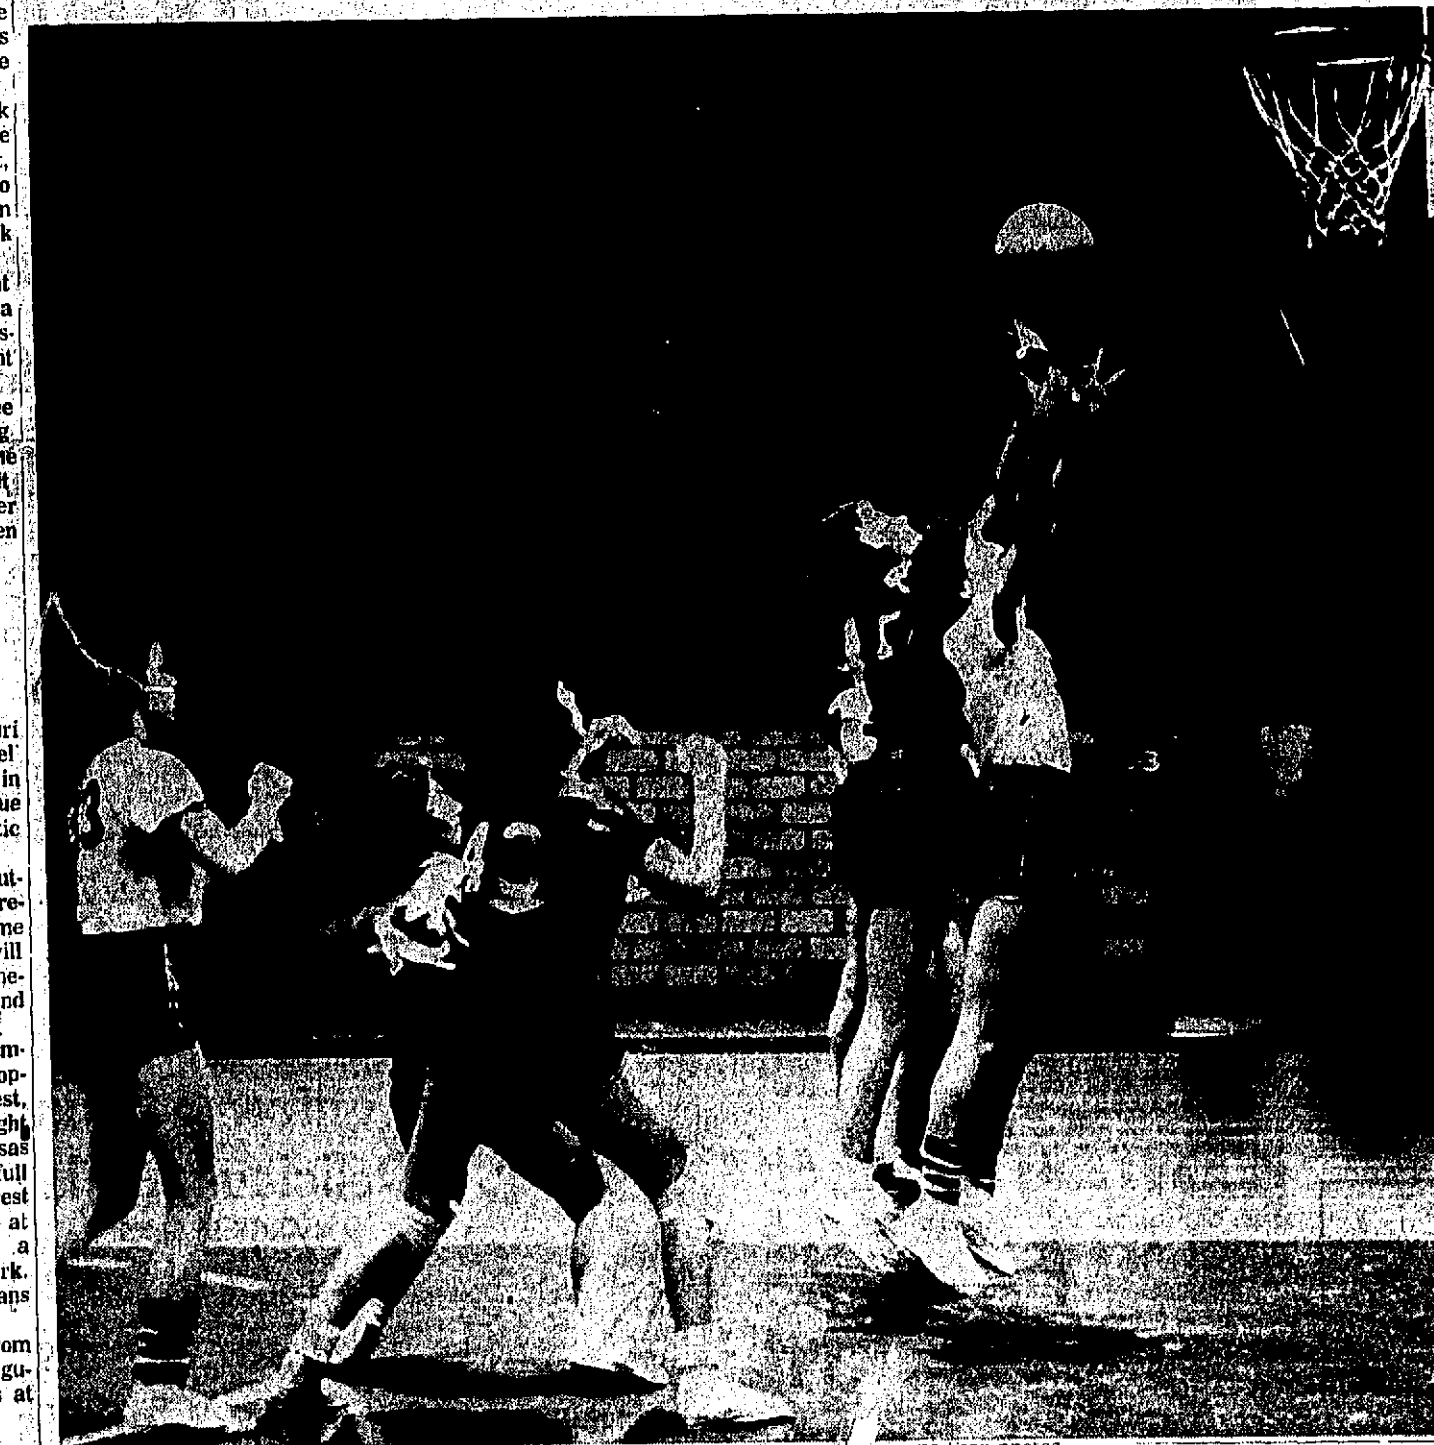

In his annual statement of outlook and revenue, Dearnont predicts a slightly higher net income for MOPAC in 1961 because it will receive for the full-year the benefits of higher freight rates and mail payments.

He called attention to major improvements in the railroad's properties such as a huge double crest, automatic and electronic freight car classification yard at Kansas City which has been placed in full operation. A similar single crest yard is under construction at North Little Rock, Ark., and a third is planned for McGehee, Ark.

Service Memphis, New Orleans and cities in Texas.

Dearnont called for relief from what he termed oppressive regulation and discriminatory taxes at federal, state and local levels.

Propane Blast Causes Many to Evacuate

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON

BAYONNE, N. J. (AP)—A storage tank containing potent liquid propane exploded Wednesday night. Four men were injured, one of them critically, and hundreds fled their homes.

Scene of the explosion was the Sun Gas Products Corp., located in Bayonne's "Constable Hook" section, near New York Bay.

Flames climbed 1,000 feet into the sky and windows for blocks around were shattered by the impact.

Police evacuated everybody from within a five-block radius of the explosion scene and cordoned it off.

Firemen sprayed the flames and wet down a huge tank containing oil just 200 yards away. At one point, flames were within 50 yards of the oil tank.

But shortly before 2 a. m. today, firemen announced the fire was under control.

Critically injured was truck driver Stanley Buchalski, 40, of Chester, N. Y. He was taken to

This Is Good News for Women

MONTREAL (AP)—Canadianair, Ltd., which specializes in designing and building airplanes, said today it is continuing development of a machine to make it easier for women having babies.

The device is a small decompression chamber that fits over the abdomen, reducing atmospheric pressure and easing labor pains by making it easier for abdominal muscles to relax.

A prototype was put into use here at St. Mary's Hospital several months ago. A second machine, incorporating changes recommended by doctors, is being tried now.

A report in the Canadian Medical Association Journal said evaluation of the machine can be made only after more extensive trials.

But of the 16 first-time mothers who used it, six reported excellent relief, nine good and one fair. Of 15 mothers who had had children previously, seven said results were excellent, five good and three fair.

King Returns to Strike Torn Brussels

By EDDY GILMORE

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP)—King Baudouin and Queen Fabiola flew hitherward from their honeymoon today as 15,000 demonstrating strikers surged through Brussels, smashing windows and overturning automobiles.

The king and his Spanish-born bride of 14 days interrupted their stay near Seville because of the Socialists' strike against the government's austerity program.

Officials of the Socialist-led General Workers Federation had criticized the king for remaining in Spain during the crisis.

Near the heart of the capital, demonstrators stoned a movie theater advertising newsworthy of the sovereign's wedding on Dec. 15.

The demonstrators stayed clear of Brussels' neutral zone, where police riot squads were ready to break up any effort to enter the Brussels Palace, Parliament buildings, government offices and ministries are located in the zone.

As the demonstrations entered their 10th day, Pierre Harmel, minister of public administration, disclosed that from 2,000 to 2,400 Belgian soldiers have been recalled from North Atlantic Treaty Organization units in West Germany.

The soldiers joined riot police in guarding government buildings. State police reserves also were called into the capital.

Harmel said the over-all situation showed improvement, except in the big port of Antwerp, where the strike was spreading. The port area has been hit hard.

Léo Collard, Socialist party president, said the strike will continue "until our goal is reached." He claimed it was spreading in both the north and south.

The demonstration in Brussels started with a mass meeting of about 10,000 strikers and sympathizers in front of Socialist party headquarters. The turnout was far short of the 50,000 the party had predicted.

As brick bats, stones and nuts and bolts were hurled at buses, streetcars and some stores, which refused to close in sympathy with the strikers, the number of demonstrators swelled to about 15,000.

During the demonstration, a delegation of strikers handed in a petition at Premier Gaston Eyskens' office repeating demands for withdrawal of proposed legislation boosting taxes and cutting pensions and social services. The government says only austerity can offset revenue losses from granting independence to the rich Congo.

Eyskens met the delegation for more than an hour. The state-controlled Belgian radio said Eyskens told the strikers' representatives he will not oppose parliamentary discussions of proposed amendments to his program.

He added he was ready to discuss his sweeping omnibus bill with everybody.

The delegation then rejoined the demonstration and made a report. Most of the demonstrators began dispersing, but younger strikers kept up the march.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate investigators made public today clashing testimony alleging and denying that 120,531 of the fund of a strife-torn labor union are missing.

The union is the El Dorado, Ark. Local 70 of the Plumbers and Pipe Fitters Union, run by the brothers Earl and Ermon Griffin.

Earl Griffin, also an international organizer for the union, protested bitterly in the closed door hearings that witnesses accusing him had "purjured themselves."

"I think it is the intent of someone to nail me," he said.

The Senate Investigations Subcommittee, which made public the transcript of testimony taken last March 2 and Aug. 16 and 17, has invited the Justice Department to look into the case.

The March hearing was conducted by the old Senate Rackets Committee, headed by Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., shortly before it went out of existence. The Investigations Subcommittee, also headed by McClellan, then took over the inquiry with other unfinished business, of the rackets probes, and quizzed the witnesses in the August hearings.

Lavern J. Duffy, a staff investigator for both groups, testified he had found the money shortage. He said the money had disappeared from a fund the local had raised in 1951-54 by assessing workers $3.50 a week while employed in construction at a federal arsenal at Pine Bluff, Ark.

Duffy testified that army payroll audit figures showed $224,388.50 should have been collected from the assessments, but that bank records showed only $102,531.78 had been deposited in the fund. The investigator said he was unable to find what happened to most of the rest of the money, because many of the local's records reportedly were destroyed.

The transcript quoted Earl Griffin as saying: "I deposited every penny."

"I can't prove that I am innocent," he exploded at the hearing, insisting there was no money. He produced some documents previously reported destroyed, and said he hoped these would show where all the money went, but conceded they were incomplete.

The hearing also explored disputed testimony which McClellan and Duffy said showed that the local, under the Griffin's command, was "pretty well run by coercion and intimidation and reprisals."

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Fred W. Garlick, who sued his way out of the Army because he was assigned to weather research, is back home in Miami looking for a job—as a weather man.

He feels that he is qualified because the Army gave him two years of weather training, even though it was against his will.

Garlick enlisted under special regulations that allow a recruit to pick his own field of training. He chose missiles. The Army made him a weather man.

So he sued to get out. The Army, rather than test the case in court, gave him a discharge Dec. 13.

Now Garlick has applied to the Miami Weather Bureau for a job. He also is interested in working for an airline that has advertised for weather men at Cape Canaveral, Fla. That's where they have all the missiles.

Mother and 11 of Her Children Perish in Fire

NOYAN, Que. (AP)—Marjorie Vosburgh, 43, and 11 of her 13 children burned to death today in one of the worst family tragedies in Quebec Province history.

The mother died when she rushed back into the flaming small, wood house near the village 35 miles south of Montreal.

She had escaped with her husband, Abel, when an explosion, believed to have been caused by a stove, rocked the home about 3 a.m. Flames spread quickly and the house had burned to the ground by the time firemen arrived.

Mrs. Vosburgh died before reaching the children. Her body was one of the first found by firemen searching the ruins.

First reports said the father had managed to save one child, but later it was established that the only children to survive were away from home at the time.

Vosburgh suffered burns to his hands in efforts to save his family and was taken to the nearby home of a brother-in-law for treatment.

The dead children were: Doris 10, Ray 7, Richard 15, Phyllis 13, Katherine 10, Audrey 9, Beverly 7, Robert 4, Caroline 3, Leo 1, and Dwayne 6 months.

Glady's, 21, and Gertrude, 22, are married and live elsewhere. Irvin, 18, was at work, and Allan, 11, was visiting an aunt.

Charges Isle of Zanzibar Is Red Base

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—The "Rand Daily Mail" claimed today that the storied island of Zanzibar, off the East African coast, had become a launching pad for a Communist assault on the African continent.

backed jointly by Moscow, Peking and Prague, with an agent from President Gamal Abdel Nasser's United Arab Republic.

A dispatch from Zanzibar said: "By an ironic twist of history Zanzibar—the base from which the great missionary drive was launched to take Christianity into East and Central Africa — has been chosen by communism as a stepping stone for its assault on the same regions."

The dispatch said: "This small British protectorate has become the target of a skillful and persistent propaganda campaign from Peking, Moscow and Prague substantially aided by Cuba."

The paper added pro-Communist speeches can be heard in the streets, and although it denies Communist affiliations, the Zanzibar Nationalist party has communism's most effective ally in the region.

State Seeks Bids
on New Dormitory

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP)—Arkansas State College will seek bids within a few weeks on a proposed four-story dormitory for 32 women students.

A $11,587,000 loan to finance construction was approved Wednesday by the Federal Community Facilities Administration.

Arkansas State has an application pending for a $1,500,000 loan to finance construction of a new student union building.

'Untouchables'
Were Touched

TEXARKANA, Tex. (AP)—The four Negro youths called themselves "The Untouchables," police said. But that didn't stop Judge Richard Carr for touching each of them for a $100 fine.

Carr, municipal judge of the Texas side of this border city, levied the fines Wednesday against Jasper Keeling, O. D. Weaver, Charles Pierson and Robert Pierson on peace disturbance charges.

Officers said The Untouchables had a sawed-off shotgun, another shotgun, a .38 caliber pistol and a .22 caliber pistol when they were arrested.

Stevenson to Face Many UN Problems

By MILTON BESSER

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—

Adlai E. Stevenson faces a host of issues capable of producing king-size headaches when he takes over Jan. 20 as chief U. S. spokesman here.

The main spotlight undoubtedly will be trained on Stevenson when gas. A small drum of gas exploded, then another and another.

Buchalski and those with him tried to move their truck away from the exploding drums. It was then that Buchalski was burned.

Nobody is sure how many drums exploded; one report indicated there were 18.

But the smaller explosions were enough to touch off the big storage tank, which went up with earsplitting force.

the U. N. General Assembly resumes its 15th session March 7.
Some of his problems will stem from the new situation caused by recently expanded U. N. membership, coming mostly from newly independent African nations.

The United States can no longer count on automatic majority support for its proposals. The new nations, along with other members of the Asian-African bloc, have demonstrated their ability to block assembly action. They do not form a common front on all issues, but when they do the Western powers cannot marshal majority support.

It is no secret that the U. S.
position on the colonialism issue caused resentment among the new member nations in the assembly session recently recessed.

As for the Congo, the Kennedy administration likely will follow the same course as the Eisenhower administration in giving full support to Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold's efforts to restore peace and unity.

Stevenson will also get much attention on the No. 1 issue left over for March discussion — disarmament.

The Soviet Union will be plugging hard for Khrushchev's proposal for a special assembly summit session on his proposals for total disarmament. The basic Ek-senhower position has been a standing offer to resume negotiations in the 10 nation East-West committee that broke up in Geneva last summer. Most diplomats expect the United States to come up with a new approach that will at least try to match the propaganda appeal in Khrushchev's proposal, which was well received in so-called neutralist nations of Asia and Africa.

DOROTHY DIX

Phantom Sweetheart
Proving Problem

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen:
This may seem strange but my husband and I would like to see him get an old sweetheart off his mind.

Being a kind soul, never remembering the bad, always the good, he can only think of how fine this girl was not to seduce him and how, in her letters, she never wrote romantically. She is now married but still wants to see my husband behind her new husband's back. How can I help my husband to get enough of her so that they may not harbor these pipe dreams of one another?

I made myself known to her and she has promised to write me but all I received was a "thank-you" for the wedding gift. She lives out-of-town and is a phantom to me.

I feel that the girl has no idea of how happily we live and how much my husband cares for me. I also feel that he has no concept whatsoever of women. My husband reads your column religiously. Please answer soon. — Questioning.

Dear Questioning: Your husband's old girl evidently pictures herself a femme fatale, just as some men see themselves a Don Juan or Casanova. If she were a woman men don't forget, she would be too sure of her own power to resort to subterfuge. See this amateur Cleopatra for what she is — a frustrated vamp. Spotlight her puny efforts to date your husband by jointly inviting her and the new husband to a weekend at your home, or a nearby resort. Get across the idea in your letter that you're not the type of wife to interfere with your husband's bachelor-day friendships. Lightly refer to this grand passion which he "once" had for her and, you suspect, she for him. Since the invitation is to be addressed jointly, your husband, as well as you, should sign it.

Dear Helen:

I am a very unhappy 16-year-old girl. I come from a large family and go to a good school, am popular and have many friends, but these things prevent me from being happy: (1) I am failing in three subjects at school (2) I have liked a wonderful boy for two and a half years who never says more than "hello" to me; (3) my mother and father fight. Mother yells at me no matter what I do, making me miserable. I have just read this letter in an effort to solve my own problem — one thing I can't do. I am considering leaving home. Help me! — S.L.

Dear S.L.: These problems are a test of character. Actually, only one actively concerns you: your studies. The fighting between your father and mother is their problem, not yours. Hard though it may be, where your affections are involved, don't take sides. When your parents start rowing, go to your room, shut the door and bone up on those studies you're weak in. If you have no room, go to the library. See the "wonderful" boy for what he really is — a tongue-tied adolescent. When the right boy comes along he'll know you're the right girl for him. Meanwhile, be grateful for your Continued on Page Four

Bobcats Down Stamps; Local Girls Ousted

By Vince Foster Hope Star Sports Writer

The Hope Bobcats advanced to the semi-finals of the Hope Holiday Tournament last night as they stomped Stamps 9-27. The Lady Cats were eliminated as Lewisville took them 41-34.

Yesterday afternoon the Stamps girls slid past Amity 44-30, and the Amity boys edged out Lewisville 60-57 in a thriller.

Stamps proved no match for the Bobcats, since Hope led 14-6 at the end of the first quarter and 35-16 at the half. Then Coach Billy Mitchell sent in his second team, who did equally as well and increased the lead to 50-17 at the end of the third period, giving Stamps only one point that period.

Larry Arnett was the hot man last night with 15 points scored in less than 3 quarters. Glen Calhoun took 11, Curtis Churchwell 10, Earl Ray Murphy 7, David Porterfield and Gene Robinson 4, Eddie Fry 3, Billy Compton and Jeff Powell 2 and Danny Halford 1, as all Bobcats on both teams scored last night.

The Lady Cats led 9-8 at the end of the first quarter but trailed 20-17 at the half and 31-24 at the end of the third. Brenda Mitchell was high with 20. Nita Messer sunk 12 and Judy Robinson got 2. May was high for Lewisville with 14. Lewisville will face the Texarkana Ladies Friday night at 7 p.m. in the girls semi-finals.

The Stamps girls had little trouble with Amity as they led 14-5, 26-16, 33-23 and 44-30 at the end of each quarter. Stamp's Burke was high with 22.

Lewisville fought Amity all the way in yesterday afternoon's game with some really good basketball being displayed by both teams. They should both place high in their districts. Amity's Taylor was high man with 18, while Lewisville's Simmon got 13.

Tonight the first game at 6:30 will be between Texarkana and Magnolia. The second game at 7:45 will feature Fairview and DeQueen. Smackover and Amity will tangle at 9. The Bobcats will face the winner of the Fairview-DeQueen game Friday afternoon at 3:30.

"We haven't played a team that puts on as much pressure as Baylor does," said Coach Ray Graves of Florida. "We made a lot of defensive improvement as the season went along but we haven't played against an offense of this type."

Coach John Bridges of Baylor uses professional-type formations he learned as an assistant coach with the Baltimore Colts. Usually an end splits off from the rest of the line and one of the halfbacks lines up wide on the opposite side.

It is a formation well suited to passing and Baylor throws more than most college teams. The Bears have two quarterbacks who can do it on Ronnie Stanley, Southwest Conference leader in passing and total offense, and Bobby Ply, who blossomed late in the season and is scheduled to start against Florida.

While Florida is working on defense against passing, Baylor's Bridges is training his Bears to

St. John's to Try Out Ohio State

By JOHN CHANDLER Associated Press Sports Writer

Some red hot college basketball will be on tap today and tonight when ranking teams clash in holiday tournaments, but the one to watch is the New York duel between Ohio State and St. John's of Brooklyn.

Ohio State, the nation's No. 1 team and unbeaten in seven games, takes on St. John's in the stellar attraction of the Madison Square Garden holiday festival semi-finals. St. John's ranked No. 7, also has won all seven of its games. Two All-Americans, Ohio State's Jerry Lucas and Tony Jackson of St. John's, provide some extra punch in the billing.

The supporting game at the Garden also is

Legislators Have Their Pet Projects

By JOHN R. STARR

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Legislators are human, too. They have their pet projects and these show up in bills introduced each session whether they got any support or not.

The 1961 General Assembly which convenes Jan. 9, will get its share of these.

The pet projects range from abolition of capital punishment to measures which would permit 18-year-olds to vote. Each session of the Legislature encounters similar proposals.

For example, in 1959, Mrs. Gordon Oates of Pulaski County introduced a bill to legalize teaching of the theory of evolution in Arkansas. The theory is generally accepted and evolution is being taught, but Mrs. Oates thought her bill was needed to erase the old law forbidding it. However, she withdrew the bill when fellow legislators protested against being asked to vote on such a controversial subject.

Cleburne Rep. Gean P. Houston tried in the last session for a constitutional amendment to end capital punishment. Houston said he'll keep trying until the death penalty is abolished and he'll be back this time.

The 1959 Legislature had a far-reaching special interest proposal — university status for Arkansas State College at Jonesboro. It had the interest of most legislators from eastern Arkansas and passed the Senate. Foes marshaled enough opposition to beat it in the House. The proposal is sure to be brought up again in 1961. Sen. Doug Bradley of Jonesboro listed it at the top of important matters to be handled by the 1961 General Assembly. However, lawmakers answering an Associated Press poll indicated the proposal may have more opposition than two years ago, several who supported it before said they will not do so again.

Franklin Rep. Lowell Whittington, Lawrence Rep. Paul Graham and Benton Rep. Roy Galvan are lined up in favor of a constitutional amendment to lower the voting age to 18.

Mrs. Mattie Hackett, the Lafayette County representative, said she will sponsor a constitutional amendment to give a homestead exemption from the real

Turkey and Ham Again Top Items

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ham and turkey again will be the top items on the housewives' holiday shopping list this week, judging by the offerings of supermarkets and neighborhood groceries.

Both lend themselves to repeat meals as well as the get-together of family or friends on New Year's Day.

Turkey is somewhat cheaper than a year ago. Ham generally is more expensive. Canned hams, which are easier to carve, are featured in some stores, while some stores in the East also push fresh, or un-cured, hams as well as the conventional cured and smoked variety. Offerings of beef, lamb and fish are few and far between.

Eggs are up in scattered sections, renewing the upward surge of 1960. But eggs are so high poultry raisers are working hard to step up production. Chick hatchings climbed 20 per cent over a year earlier in November and may go as high as 40 per cent over a year earlier this month, but the big bulge in egg output won't come until late summer 1961.

Best buys among vegetables are artichokes, cabbage, local beets and carrots, Florida celery, Chinese cabbage, medium-size yellow onions, potatoes, sweet potatoes, turnips, rutabagas, endive and escarole.

Good buys are anise, bunched broccolis, brussels sprouts, Western carrots, California celery, miscellaneous leafy greens, corn, mushrooms, spinach, parsnips, leeks and fall types of squash such as Hubbard, acorn and butternut.

Fairly expensive items include cauliflower, parsley, peppers, peas, summer squash, tomatoes, watercress and white boiler onions. Cranberries remain a good buy. California oranges are an out-estate and property tax.

Such an exemption already is on the books in relation to the state's share of the property tax but since a state tax is no longer levied, it is of no practical effect.

The Legislature is permitted to put three proposed constitutional amendments on the ballot for the following general election.

Garland Rep. Eugene (Bud) Canada said he plans to introduce legislation to require county judges to take competitive bids on materials and equipment bought for the county.

Jefferson Rep. J. P. Walt said he will sponsor bills to cut down on the number of split school terms and to reduce the number of school districts in the state. Some schools hold summer classes and then dismiss during the harvest season.

Pulaski Rep. Glenn Walther said he will reintroduce his bill to set up a point system under which the license of an accident-prone or reckless driver could be revoked. Such a bill was passed in 1958 but Gov. O'Neal E. Faubus vetoed it because it did not provide funds for administration.

Perry Rep. Paul Van Dalsen is expected to again sponsor a bill to set up a state department of weights and measures. His 1959 bill was defeated early in the session.

Defeat of a minimum wage referendum in the Nov. 8 election may keep a minimum wage bill off the floor of the General Assembly this session. The house defeated a minimum wage bill last time. A similar Senate bill never came to a vote.

Almond Crunch Apple Pie

Streusel topping and crisp toasted almonds add a special flourish to an apple pie. This "Almond Crunch Apple Pie" is a delicious dessert. Serve it warm or cold, plain or with a topping of whipped cream or ice cream.

To make an "Almond Crunch Apple Pie," combine ¾ cup brown sugar (packed), ¼ cup granulated sugar, ¼ cup fine graham cracker crumbs, ¼ cup sifted all-purpose flour, ¼ cup soft butter or margarine and ½ teaspoon cinnamon. Mix until crumbly. Pare, core and slice 5 medium-size cooking apples. Arrange in pastry-lined 9-inch pie pan. Cover apples with sugar-butter mixture. Bake on lowest rack of hot oven (400 degrees F.) 30 minutes. Sprinkle top with ½ cup sliced blanched almonds and bake 10 minutes longer, or until apples are tender. Serve warm or cold, topped with whipped cream or ice cream, if desired. Makes 1 (9-inch) pie.

Party Date Dessert

"Date Cream Chocolate Roll" is an easy-to-make, delectable dessert. Its date-orange filling is folded into whipped cream, then spread between chocolate wafers. The trio of flavors—chocolate, orange and fresh California dates—is an interesting combination. Cut the cake on the diagonal for party service. If there should be any left (not likely!), wrap it carefully and keep in the freezer.

Chop 1½ cups pitted fresh California dates. Combine with ¾ cup orange juice and 1 teaspoon grated orange rind, 2 tablespoons sugar and dash of salt in a saucepan. Cover and simmer 10 minutes, until the sauce is thickened. Cool, then chill. Whip 1 pint (2 cups) heavy cream until almost stiff; fold into chilled date-orange mixture. Using ¾ of the date cream, spread 3 dozen (2-inch) chocolate wafers. Pile in stacks of 6 wafers, then put together in a long lengthwise roll. Frost outside of the roll with remaining date cream. Chill at least 3 hours. Garnish the top with 8 pitted fresh California dates. Slice on the diagonal to serve. Makes 12 servings.

U. S. Not to Push Case on Conspiracy

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Justice Department has decided against seeking a Supreme Court review of the decision that knocked out its conspiracy case against 20 men who attended an alleged underworld meeting in Apalachin, N.Y.

A spokesman for the department said today that Solicitor General J. Lee Rankin has decided against appealing.

The Court of Appeals for the 2nd District in New York on Nov. 28 reversed the conviction of the 20 men. The court said the evidence produced by the government was not sufficient to uphold

U. S. Thinks Plane Hit From Ground

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. officials inclined to the view today that an American Embassy plane which was struck by bullets while watching Soviet air drops to pro-Communist rebels in Laos likely was hit by gunfire from the ground rather than from the Soviet aircraft.

Press officer Lincoln White said under questioning that "the fire could have come from the ground."

White said the plane landed safely and no one aboard was injured. Bullets hit one engine and tore holes in the fuselage.

Girl 12, Shot Accidently

CONWAY, Ark. (AP)—Twelve-year-old Virginia Noblett was accidentally shot to death at her home about a mile north of Vilonia, Faulkner County, today.

Her brother, Roy, about 14, told Sheriff Joe Castleberry he was getting ready to go hunting when he accidentally dropped his shotgun. The safety catch was not on. The weapon discharged, and the girl was struck in the forehead. The children's father is Edison Noblett.

Reds Still Rave

TOKYO (AP) — Foreign Minister Chen Yi of Red China today asked the co-chairmen of the Geneva Conference on Indochina to take "energetic action and effective measures" to stop what he called U.S. aggression in Laos.

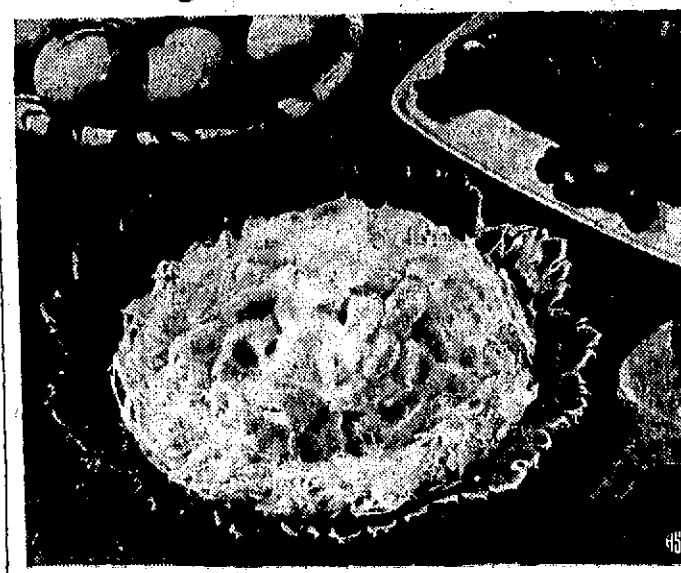

A letter was addressed to Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko of the Soviet Union and Lord Home, British foreign secretary, said radio Peiping. They were delivered through embassies of the two countries in Peiping.

the charge of conspiracy to obstruct justice. Rankin's decision against appealing means that the Circuit Court ruling will stand and the case against the 20 men is finished.

The meeting at Apalachin was Nov. 14, 1957. Police picked up some 60 men, many with criminal records, as the gathering broke up and the men sought to leave. Reasons given by the men for being there varied, but none was what the government believed was a truthful account.

Twenty of the men were tried on the charge of conspiring to obstruct justice by giving false and evasive testimony to a grand jury. The government did not claim it knew the real purpose of the gathering.

Tangerines In High C Slaw

Tangerines, the wonderful kid-glove fruit from Florida, are back to brighten the winter food picture with their high C—C for their bright color which accents duller foods, C for their high vitamin content. This year's crop will be 50% larger than last. Hurricane Donna fortunately did not damage the popular fruit.

Cabbage slaw, that wintertime favorite among salads and side-dishes, takes well to the addition of this tangerine fruit. The tangerine flavor is a nice addition to the cabbage, and since both foods boast high vitamin C, the salad will be good for everyone. It's particularly good with ham and pork dishes.

Remember that the tangerine season is short. Buy enough fruit so that you can pack it in lunchboxes, use it in salads and fruit cups, and have it around for between-meal snacks.

Autry Adds Something to Office

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Something new has been added to Gene Autry's spacious office in Toluca Lake.

On all four sides are paintings and statues of horses, including Gene's longtime steed, Champion. The newcomer is a dummy of an aged Indian wearing baseball cap and fielding glove and the sign "Joe All-Star, pride of the Golden West Angels."

Explained Gene: "That's our new shortstop."

As the sports page readers well know, Gene is the boss of the new American League baseball club, the Los Angeles Angels. Some Eastern writers have attacked the big-league expansion as greed and expressed fears that Autry would bring a rodeo atmosphere to the sport.

Gene's reply: "I sat in on sessions with all the owners and I didn't see any evidence of greed. I think the owners are public-spirited businessmen who want to do what is best for the game. The reason for the expansion was that Congress had requested the leagues do something about bringing big-league baseball to cities of expanding population that would like to have it."

"As to adding showmanship to the game, I don't have any plans in that direction. I think baseball is good as it is. The important element is having good competition, and we hope to field the best team we possibly can. If we have a good team, the public will support us."

"We'll concentrate on that the first season; later we might add some element of color to the games."

Gene wears his millions well. He may ride a bit heavier in the saddle, but his Stetson still fits and he still talks earnestly in his flat Oklahoma ones. He conceded that the Angels will occupy a great deal of his time.

Detention of Writer Ignored

HAVANA (AP) — A U.S. embassy spokesman said today the foreign office so far has ignored a protest over the detention of NBC correspondent Wilson Hall.

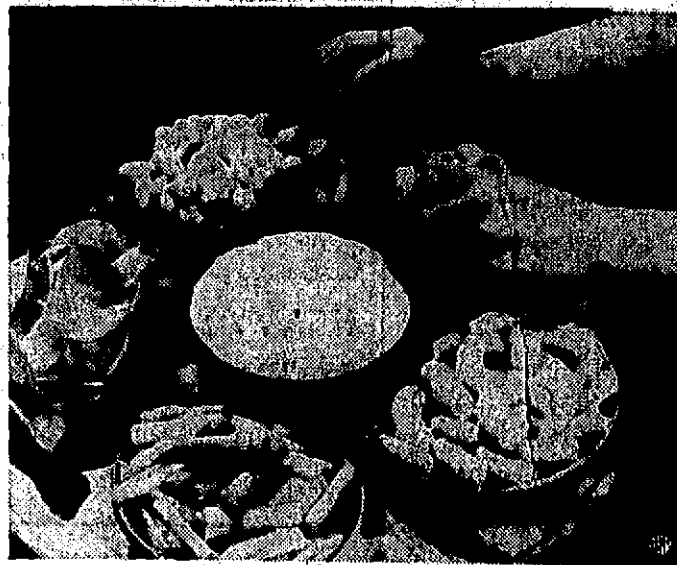

Hall was picked up at the airport Monday as he prepared to leave for New York. He has been held incommunicado since Tuesday.

Cuban authorities have given no reason for the detention. Hall is being held at military intelligence headquarters in suburban Miramar. Officials there will say only that Hall is under investigation.

Very Few Strikes

OSLO, Norway (AP)—Only 700 manpower working days were lost in Norwegian industry because of labor disputes in 1960, the Employers' Federation reported today. It said the labor force worked 7 million manpower days.

Tabasco Dunking Sauce

It's not a party without canapes—and the simpler the canapes, the better, from almost every standpoint! Men love dunking sauces, and here's one to whet men's appetites and make them appreciate your culinary skill. A variation of New Orleans' famed remoulade, it owes much of its zest to Louisiana's Tabasco and it goes wonderfully well with anything from humble potato chips to more elegant shrimp, cauliflower buds, or celery sticks. Easy to make too, thus:

- Sauce Iberia
- 1 cup mayonnaise
 - 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
 - 1/2 teaspoon garlic salt
 - 1 tablespoon anchovy paste
 - 1/2 teaspoon Tabasco
 - 2 tablespoons tarragon vinegar
 - 1 tablespoon chopped parsley
 - 3 tablespoons very finely chopped stuffed olives
 - 3 tablespoons very finely chopped shrimps
 - 1 teaspoon very finely chopped onion

Blend with mayonnaise, mustard, garlic salt, anchovy paste and Tabasco. Stir in vinegar. Add remaining ingredients and mix well. Serve over lettuce wedge, or seafood salad, or as a cocktail "dunking" sauce for shrimp, cauliflower buds, or potato chips. Yield: 2 cups.

Texas Team Will Try to Tame South

By EDMOND LEBRETON

WASHINGTON (AP) — John F. Kennedy's Texas team should have an early chance to show whether it can line up Southern lawmakers for the president-elect's program as effectively as it kept Southern political leaders behind his candidacy.

When Kennedy talked about his legislative program, with the vice president-elect, Sen. Lyndon Johnson, D-Tex., and House Speaker Sam Rayburn, D-Tex., at his side, he mentioned first a Social Security-based health care program for the aged.

This is the legislation killed this year in the House Ways and Means Committee headed by Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., and the Senate Finance Committee headed by Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va. Southern votes figured heavily in the committee decisions.

Backers of the kind of bill Kennedy favors contended—and many sideliners agreed with them—that if such legislation had ever reached the floor of the House and Senate with committee approval both chambers would have passed it.

To redeem its campaign pledges, the incoming administration must lead another try. The coming struggle affords a second test of Kennedy's major strategic decision—to offer the vice-presidential nomination to Johnson, his great convention rival for the presidency, and not to write the South out of his calculations.

In terms of the election, the decision has been proven inspired.

No Plans to Go to Inaugural

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus said today he won't make any plans for possible attendance at the inauguration of President-elect John F. Kennedy until he sees how things are going during the early stages of the Legislature.

He said that if there is nothing of importance to keep him here he might go to the Jan. 20 inaugural.

The Legislature convenes Jan. 9 and Faubus will be inaugurated for a fourth term the following day.

On another matter, Faubus said he and his family might attend the Great Southwest Bowl football game at Grand Prairie, Tex., Saturday.

They plan to leave here Friday for next Monday's Cotton Bowl at Dallas. Faubus said they might also take in the other bowl, in which Arkansas Tech meets Texas A&M.

Arkansas plays Duke in the Cotton Bowl.

Johnson, and Johnson's redoubtable manager, Speaker Rayburn, certainly helped keep Texas and the majority of the South in the regular Democratic fold. The vote turned out so close, even electorally, that if Kennedy had lost just two states rated in advance as most doubtful, Texas and North Carolina, he would have lacked an electoral majority.

But the chances are that Kennedy, a long-range planner, was looking beyond the election when he made his dramatic bid to the Senate majority leader.

Suppose he had offered Johnson no balm after beating him for the presidential nomination, but had been elected anyhow. He would then have had to deal with a Congress whose two top Democrats, loyal party men to be sure, might still be nursing private wounds.

Instead, he has given Johnson, and, through Johnson, Rayburn, a substantial personal stake in the new administration's success or failure in Congress.

The struggle will open soon, presumably in the Ways and Means committee, which this year met for months behind closed doors before irrevocably turning down the Social Security approach to health care for the aged. No variation of the Social Security plan ever mustered more than 9 votes in the 25-man committee. The 10 Republicans voted solidly against it. Chairman Mills authored the quite different and sharply restricted grant-in-aid plan for needy aged which finally emerged.

So Rayburn's work, if he intends to back Kennedy all the way on this issue, is cut out for him. It begins when the House Democrats caucus Monday, since there are two Democratic vacancies to fill on Ways and Means. The two who left the committee are the author of the Social Security health plan, Rep. Aime J. Forand of Rhode Island, and one of its strongest supporters, Rep. Lee Metcalf of Montana. Forand did not seek re-election. Metcalf was elected to the Senate.

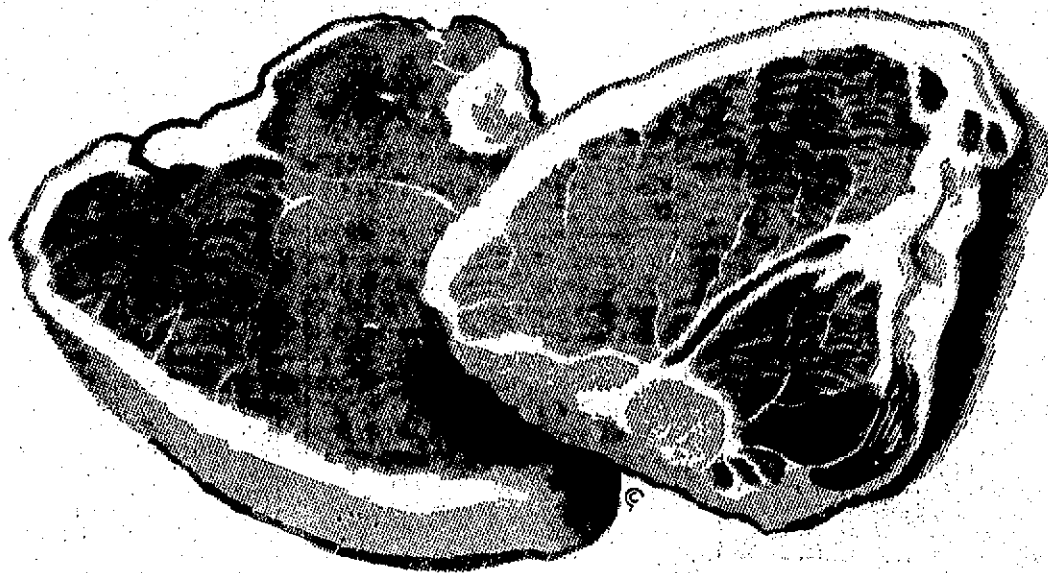

There is a Republican vacancy on the committee, too, but it is hardly likely the opposition party will name to this blue ribbon tax-writing committee anyone who might waver in opposition to the Democratic program.

Backers of the Kennedy plan, however, think that if they can get their measure to the floor they will have support from some GOP colleagues, since there will no longer be in the White House a Republican president publicly and strongly opposing any link of Social Security to old age health care.

Edmond LeBreton writes today for James Marlow.

Cracklin' Bread

Make it "round" or "square" — in a skillet or a pan your family will proclaim the old-fashioned goodness of Cracklin' Bread.

What could be more "homey" than piping hot wedges of Cracklin' Bread and steaming bowls of hearty soup or stew?

Sounds like a good meal to come home to — and it is. For two centuries or more, women have been stirring cracklings into their corn bread batter to give it country flavor. The flavor combination has appealed to generations of families through the years.

Crisp cracklings — tiny pieces of pork left after lard has been rendered — are not everyday fare like they once were. If your store doesn't have cracklings, substitute bits of fried salt pork or slab bacon for almost authentic flavor.

Southern women well know the appeal and nutritional value of hot breads. Corn breads, biscuits and muffins give the most elegant meal an extra flair and increase the "homey" goodness of everyday meals.

A meal needs bread to be nutritionally complete. Muffins and corn bread made with enriched self-rising corn meal contribute B-vitamins, food iron and calcium.

Enriched self-rising corn meal is also the key to easy, worry-free baking. Just the right amounts of baking powder and salt are blended with the corn meal to save you time and effort. Whether you're baking corn bread, cracklin' bread, corn sticks or muffins, count on self-rising corn meal for an attractive bread that tastes as good as it looks.

CRACKLIN' BREAD
3/4 cup enriched self-rising corn meal
1/4 cup bacon drippings or melted shortening
1/2 cup milk
2 eggs, beaten
1/2 cup chopped cracklings

Heat oven to hot (400° F.). Grease and heat 10-inch skillet or 9-inch square baking pan. Combine corn meal and sugar in mixing bowl. Add eggs, bacon drippings or shortening and milk. Mix until smooth. Fold in cracklings. Turn batter into hot greased skillet or pan. Bake about 35 minutes, or until lightly browned. Cut into squares or wedges.

Makes 9 to 10 servings.

Treat For Weight-Watchers

Luscious, Low-Calorie, Holiday Pie

For holiday entertaining, what could be more glamorous than this beautiful "White Christmas" Pie, a delectable confection topped with drifts of snowy coconut.

Decorate the top of the pie with red candles, each encircled with green gum drops, cut in half. Arrange so that each candle marks an individual serving. Bring to the table lighted... and listen to the exclamations!

Laden with calories? Not if you follow our calorie-streamlined recipe, below. You'll see that we've subtracted more than one-third of the total calories from this holiday treat; simply by replacing the sugar normally required with the calorie-free sweetener, Sucaryl. One taste and you'll discover what a delightful, natural-tasting sweetness it gives... and without adding a single calorie. Nice for weight-watchers who'd like to enjoy the holiday feasting, and diet, too.

WHITE CHRISTMAS PIE (Low-Calorie)

| 1/2 teaspoon salt | 1/2 cup skim milk | 2 egg whites | 1/2 cup shredded coconut |

Add vanilla and almond extract; chill until mixture begins to set. Combine dry milk and ice water; beat on high speed of mixer until consistency of whipped cream. Fold into gelatin mixture. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Carefully fold in coconut. Pie into baked pie shell and chill until set. If desired, garnish with additional coconut, gumdrop candies and candles.

TIME FOR VIOLENCE

By Noel M. Loomis

THE STORY: Bart Wagner has been assisting a widow, Catherine Lewis, whose husband was shot by desperadoes. Xenophon Jones, one of the outlaws, has offered Wagner money to force her to leave her ranch. Wagner refused, but Jones believes he can force Wagner to obey.

Chapter XVI

He was sound asleep in the shed when he heard the pounding hooves through the earth. In the bright moonlight, three men swept across the empty ranch yard near the cottonwood tree and old Ben's grave. The drumming hooves had awakened Catherine too, for a small-sized clap of thunder went off, and the ranch yard was lighted for an instant by the yellow flame of gunpowder. He stayed in the shed.

Two more riders came in from the west. He sat in the dark and watched them go. But in a moment the old Sharps spoke again, and the riders split and went wide around the house.

He set his hammers at halfcock and examined both .44s. There were five cartridges in each cylinder. He put them back in their holsters and stood up alongside a cottonwood post that held up one end of the roof of the shed.

He watched the five men come together in a group not 50 feet away, and heard them talk in low voices.

"Let's try one more run. Maybe that Wagner feller will get her tinner control."

"He sleeps in the shed. Jones told me. Prob'ly he isn't even awake yet."

"Go see if he's back there," said the deepest voice.

One man rode away from the group, and Bart waited. The man started to dismount at the shed.

"Lookin' for me?" asked Bart. The man jumped and whirled, his hand on his gun butt.

"Don't pull it," Bart said softly.

"Wagner?"

"Yes."

"Are't you supposed to stop that shootin'?"

"Is that what Jones told you?"

"He said you'd keep us from gettin' hit."

With an easy motion Bart struck a match on his belt buckle and held it in the man's face.

The man was swarthy and he wore a straw hat.

"You got a name?" asked Bart.

"Tex-Mex."

"Go on back to your job. Stick to Jones' orders."

Tex-Mex rode back and conferred with the outlaws. Bart stayed in the shadow. In a moment the outlaws started a sweep around the house but at a greater distance.

Catherine's rifle spoke twice, once from each side, and he noted that she was lugging the big weapon pretty handily. But if she ever realized how easily they could have rushed her, she could have been frightened to death. He walked slowly and carefully up to the back door. "Catherine?" he called.

There was a second of silence, then her voice: "Bart?"

"Yes, ma'am."

She opened the door carefully. In the dark inside, he could make out the white of her nightgown and he could hear her bare feet padding on the floor.

He closed the door behind him, and heard her push a cartridge into the chamber of the Sharps. He smelled the faint fragrance of her sachet in the dark, above the acrid smell of black powder. Then he heard hooves drumming. "It's company again," she said, and put the rifle barrel through a window.

The outlaws split and went around the house on both sides. This time bullets smacked into the sod walls. One came through the window; glass shattered and sprayed over the floor, but again Catherine's rifle boomed. He waited for a moment, but the outlaws were gathering out by the shed.

He heard her bare feet on the floor, and then a suppressed scream and a sharp intake of breath.

"You hurt?" he asked. "What's the matter?"

"I — stepped on glass."

He struck a match and looked

Most Folks Fail in Push for Success

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Curbstone comments of a Pavement Plato: Millions of Americans will probably write as their biggest resolution of 1961 — "I will become a success."

Millions probably made the same stern resolve a year ago. What happened? Most of those who sought success failed to attain it.

The reason why is hard to figure — particularly if, as we can probably assume in most cases, success is defined as the acquirement of more money.

There is no great secret about this. Almost unanimously those who have achieved wealth by their own efforts say they did so by a single means — concentrated hard work, intense application of their energy to the simple goal of making more money.

This is true in any field. It takes more than a gun and raw courage, for example, to become a successful bank robber. It takes endless hours of planning, study and rehearsal. It takes personal ability of a high order to assemble a staff of trained and dependable associates.

Even in his day, Jesse James had to learn to ride a horse. No, successful bank robbing is not for the idle dreamer.

Nor is success in any other avenue of endeavor. Even Jacques Casanova, the world's greatest tattle-tale lover, had to climb hundreds of trellises to hundreds of balconies to win undying fame. It wasn't easy.

Hard work as a means of success, however, has never been a popular recipe with the masses. They cling to the superstition there is an easier way.

There is, in fact, there are two: 1. Marry the boss' daughter — if he has no sons to leave his business to.

2. Inherit money.

But since there is a shortage of bosses with marriageable daughters, and few doing old aunts with fat bank accounts, many seek still a third easy magic formula.

The literary market is flooded with books giving so-called inside tips on how to achieve success.

In most cases these self-help books don't actually make one a success. But if read in bed at night, they sometimes provide a remarkable cure for insomnia — thus giving one more strength to daydream at the office on the job during the day.

Most of such books are aimed at low-paid workers, who are sure that if they had lots of money they would have lots of happiness.

We have figured out our own ingenious way to quick wealth. It involves some work — but not too much.

Practically every such person we have met has an inner sorrow. Success hasn't been the bonfire of happiness he expected.

"There isn't much fun at the top," he says. "I had more fun when I was struggling up the ladder."

Such prosperous failures are desperately in need of help if they are ever to find real success. We intend to provide it.

The title of our work will be, "How to get rid of your money and be poor and happy again through a positive mental attitude."

There is only one hitch. So far we haven't been able to find a publisher.

Contact Lost With Satellite

NEW BOSTON, N.H. (AP) — The Air Force satellite tracking station here has lost contact with Discoverer XIX.

Col. Nicholas Polio, operations officer, said the satellite lost its transmitting power Christmas Day.

The satellite was launched Dec. 20 from Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif., in a polar orbit to measure heat radiation.

Although its radio is not transmitting, the satellite is not "lost."

at her in her white muslin nightgown, her hair in two long black braids down her back. She was smaller without her shoes on. Her left foot was in a pool of blood.

He helped her to a chair. She tucked the nightgown carefully under her legs, and he saw her foot bleeding freely from a cut over two inches long.

"Stay out of that glass until I get it swept up," he ordered, and went to her bed behind the curtain to get her shoes.

Before he reached her, he heard the hooves again. He dropped the shoes in her lap, and ran to the window.

Bart noted grimly that they were shooting high enough not to hit her.

He saw the fifth man go by, and took a shot at him. The man yelled.
